

Navin brings technical rigor and creativity to fire protection design, developing seamlessly integrated solutions for architecturally complex projects.

Navin joined Altieri in 2007 and leads the firm's fire protection department. He prioritizes fire protection system designs that meet program requirements without deterring from clients' overall architectural goals. His work highlights his creativity, ability to design seamlessly integrated systems and coordinate multiple systems into one program, as well as his technical command, particularly in the context of architecturally challenging buildings. He brings a strong sense of purpose and commitment to his work, setting high standards for technical quality, coordination, and accountability. His attention to detail and dedication to developing thoughtful, well-integrated solutions establish a level of rigor that carries through his team's work.
